Subject: Recommendation letter for Paul Quique

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to strongly recommend Paul Quique for a position as an engineer. I had the pleasure of supervising him during his fourth-year engineering internship in our laboratory, and I can confidently say that he made a lasting impression through both his skills and attitude.

Throughout the internship, Paul demonstrated a strong capacity for autonomous work, critical thinking and intellectual engagement. He revealed a genuine curiosity that translated into thoughtful questions, challenged ideas constructively, and proposed methods and solutions to the problems encountered. He quickly grasped the context and objectives of the project and showed solid technical skills, rapidly mastering the tools and methodologies relevant for the work at hand.

In addition to his technical abilities, Paul was a genuine pleasure to have as a colleague. He integrated smoothly into the team showing professionalism and a collaborative spirit. He communicated effectively, fostering productive discussions and helped maintain a constructive workflow. He was always respectful, open to feedback, and eager to contribute, which made him highly appreciated by everyone in the lab.

I recommend Paul without reservation for any position requiring strong engineering and analytical skills, intellectual curiosity, and a collaborative spirit. I have no doubt that he will make a valuable contribution to any team or organization he joins.

Please feel free to contact me for any further information.

Sincerely,
Dima Rodriguez
